7d – Proposed housing site allocations - Growth Villages and Hockley Heath

No comment on these allocations. Our interest lies in the area south of Coventry and the comments are therefore set out in relation to 7c above. One observation would be that that the most cost effective provision of essential infrastructure will be through the allocation of development sites adjacent to main centres of existing population and commerce such as Coventry. Such sites will also prove to be the most sustainable in terms of public transport, journey to work and access to essential services. In proposing development on Green Belt land, it is essential to maximise the offset the provision of much needed housing land, where it is needed and maximise the sustainability benefits resulting from the existing and future ease of access to public transport and other essential services.
